description for arranging the performance-CD:

at http://ablinger.mur.at/scores/picc\_r.zip (3.8MB) you find the following 5 mono wav-files:

Rauschenland2.wav
Rauschen3.wav
Rauschen4.wav
Rauschen5.wav
Rauschen6.wav

the only thing you have to do is to arrange these 5 files in 6 tracks of a CD and fill in the right pauses before and after each "Rauschen" (noise).

Track 1

starts with 4 seconds silence
then follows Rauschenland2.wav (from 0:04 to 0:15,5) then silence for 11 seconds (track length is 26,5 seconds)

Track 2

(is a perfect copy of track 1, therefore)
starts with 4 seconds silence
then follows Rauschenland2.wav (from 0:04 to 0:15,5)
then silence for 11 seconds (track length is 26,5 seconds)

Track 3

starts with 4 seconds silence
then follows Rauschen3.wav (from 0:04 to 0:06,75)
then silence for 11 seconds (track length is 17,75 seconds)

Track 4

starts with 4 seconds silence
then follows Rauschen4.wav (from 0:04 to 0:27,5)
then silence for 11 seconds (track length is 38,5 seconds)

Track 5

starts with 4 seconds silence
then follows Rauschen5.wav (from 0:04 to 0:13)
then silence for - this time one second more! - 12 seconds (track length is 25 seconds)

Track 6

starts with 4 seconds silence
then follows Rauschen6.wav (from 0:04 to 0:09,625)
0:09,625 is the end of track 6 (and the end of the piece)

the final CD will have the same signal on both channels

performance:

for performance the instrumentalist might have the CD-player on stage in front of them on a stand so that they can read the score and coordinate the time by controlling the display of the CD-player.
on the other hand there should be a dynamic control from a listening place close to the audience.

during the pauses between tracks the performer should NOT remain in tension (as if for a musical pause) but slightly relax as if it were a pause between movements. (therefore: take instrument down for a moment.)

dynamics:

the noise has to be loud and on a level where the piccolo is not any more the foreground but indicates just the upper spectral border of the noise: the piccolo tone "is suspended" on the noise.

loudspeakers: as the signal is a mono-signal, you can use 1 or 2 loudspeakers, which in all cases are to be positioned not too far apart from the instrumentalist.
